Section 11 of the cremation act 2003, the person who is authorised under the above direction, does not collect the cremated remains within 12 months, the person in charge of the crematorium will dispose of the ashes in accordance with the provisions of the Act. Whitsunday Funerals will arrange for the ashes to be delivered anywhere in the world. Our company will arrange this through a third party if required and will take all due care and attention, however we will not take any responsibility for the third party.
